Crash on M1 causes chaos

Major roads across Northamptonshire descended into chaos yesterday after a jack-knifed lorry and large diesel spill closed the M1 for more than 18 hours.

During the early hours of Wednesday morning, a truck jack-knifed on the northbound carriageway between J16 and J18.

As a result of the crash, the vehicle spilt diesel all across the carriageway, leaving behind extensive damage to the road.

While emergency repairs were carried out to lay down 3500 m2 of new tarmac where the lorry ruined the previous surface, and to replace part of the central reservation which was damaged by the lorry, all traffic was diverted down the A43 and the A5, causing miles of tail-backs for motorists throughout the day.

The road was finally re-opened at 8.15pm last night. See the latest on our website.

Ten years on: why did Lauren die?

BY NATASHA JONES
news@hpnorthants.co.uk

An open verdict has been recorded on the death of a 17-year-old nursery nurse who plunged to her death in Northampton town centre ten years ago.

Police have spent a decade looking for new evidence in the case of Lauren Eley, who fell 18m to the bottom of a stairwell in the Grosvenor Centre car park in December, 2004.

This week Coroner Anne Pember returned an open verdict after a two day inquest into her death.

Lauren had spent the previous night with ex-boyfriend Chris Pearce at his Kingsthorpe flat and travelled into town with him on the day she died.

The inquest heard that they both got off the bus in Marefair and Pearce said he did not see her again. Lauren was discovered with multiple injuries at the bottom of the carpark stair well just before 2pm. She was able to tell paramedics she did not jump. Lauren's family is considering what to do next.

The unexplained death of Lauren reflects on us all

I remember when Lauren Eley died. I was a journalist working in Northampton at the time.

In the newsroom instinctively the facts sounded odd to us.

I have covered stories before about people falling from tall buildings.

It's something I would associate more with men who are older than Lauren.

Clearly that's not scientific but Coroner Anne Pember was not persuaded a suicide verdict was the right one at Lauren's inquest.

She recorded an open verdict.

As a father with a daughter myself I can only imagine the pain her family have experienced every day of the decade that has passed since Lauren's death.

An open verdict tells them the least they can know.

It leaves all things possible.

The inquest heard that Lauren's father has been scrutinising evidence himself over the past ten years.

I can understand that. I would have done that and not as a criticism of the efforts of the police. It would be impos-

It is hard to believe everyone who could throw light on this has told all they know sible not to go through the CCTV frame by frame if the option was there.

You would simply try everything you could to get some answers.

This happened in the heart of the town in the middle of a busy shopping day.

It was the stairwell to the car park of Northampton's main shopping centre.

It is shocking and slightly horrifying that a 17-year-old nursery nurse can fall to an unexplained death in that situation.

It is hard to believe that everyone who could throw light on this has told all they know.

Why was she in the car park? How did she get herself in a position where could fall like that? Why would she take a risk like that? Who was with her?

People who know the answers to these questions, for their own convenience, are not sharing the answers.

And for the sake of their peace of mind we have to become a community that let's a life like Lauren's slip through our fingers with a shrug. She died. We don't know why.

If you know something. Come forward.

William Heath, 12, from Earls Barton, has so far disguised himself as the likes of Ali G, Freddie Mercury, Keith Lemon and John Lennon as part of his Movember campaign.

He is taking on the epic challenge to raise money in memory of his grandfather who died from pancreatic cancer in February.

William came up with the unique idea as he cannot grow one himself.

His proud mum, Clare Heath, said William is loving every minute of his new-found fame.

William, who is a big Saints fan, has so far raised more than £3,000 for The Movember Foundation. That gives Saints star Dylan Hartley some competition, as he is also doing his bit by growing a Mo. Also raising money is Tom Wood, who is auctioning off his England shirt on Twitter.

County to honour heroes of WW1

Nearly 4,000 trees will be planted across the county to commemorate the centenary of the First World War.

Tree planting events are set to take place around the county by the Woodland Trust to mark the centenary of the First World War.

3,720 saplings have been delivered to schools and community groups and will now be planted as part of local events organised to thank those affected by the War that broke out in 1914.

It is hoped the trees will provide a lasting tribute to those who made sacrifices in the First World War in the hope of securing a brighter future for the next generation.

Invisible police log on to fight cyber crime

REPORTER Lawrence John finds out about Northamptonshire Police's new Cyber Crime Unit and how it is tackling this internet menace

Your life is online and you need to take better care of stopping cyber criminals stealing your identity.

This is one of the messages from Northamptonshire Police's dedicated Cyber Crime Unit. Set up last month the unit, which comprises Detective Inspector, three Sergeants, nine constables and 16 members of police staff, is on call to officers seven days a week from 8am to 10pm.

It has been funded by Northamptonshire Police and it is one department whose work is set to grow and encompass all of the Force's activity.

It is already investigating 85 crimes and has helped in the arrest of 15 men connected with indecent images of children.

As far as Northamptonshire Police is concerned cyber crime is a growing problem - one which ranges from identity theft to a criminal being able to hack into your webcam and watch you in your own home.

Detective Inspector Steve Henderson, who leads the Cyber Crime Unit, said: "Most people were shocked to think criminals were trying to break into their homes online."

"These types of criminals are desperately trying to get into our lives and while people can see an officer out on patrol on our streets we are the invisible police."

"Northamptonshire Police is working hard to keep the public safe and in that respect we have to 'think digital' when attending any scene of crime."

"There could be valuable data and evidence on any number of devices connected to the internet."

He explained how thieves were using the dark web, a criminal version of the worldwide web, to buy stolen credit cards for as little as £50 or software which could crash any website.

DI Henderson said most cyber crime can be prevented and he offered these tips:

- Use a PIN or password. Never use the same one twice and don't share it
- Keep anti-virus software up to date
- Check your privacy settings on social media
- Don't open attachments from people you don't know
- When shopping or banking online - always check for the padlock symbol and that the web address begins with 'https://'
- Don't respond to emails asking to confirm your bank account details

■ If the email looks too good to be true... it probably is.

He added one of the things which has shocked him is how easily people open emails from someone they did not know and clicked on a link which said they had won a prize or to look at a photo when in reality it was a virus which then got into their computer.

Assistant Chief Constable Ivan Balhatchet said: "What we have tried to do is be proactive in a local situation and tackle this problem head on."

"This is an issue which needs a national and international response."

"What we have tried to do in Northamptonshire is set up a dedicated unit, fund it ourselves and make sure there is the proper training, staff and equipment."

"As far as the police are concerned we have been behind the curve but we are looking to make up for lost time. We are here to help people, prevent this from happening and prosecute those who commit this crime."

Conman jailed for gig tickets scam

BY COURT REPORTER
news@hpnorthants.co.uk

Terry Beckwith was jailed for 21 months on Friday for selling tickets for V Festival and Glastonbury that he did not have.

Beckwith, 29, of Springfield Road, Rushden, advertised the tickets on Gumtree, making a total of £7,076, St Albans Crown Court was told.

Jessica Clarke, prosecuting, said: "People made money transfers on the promise of tickets. When they did not arrive, Mr Beckwith created excuses. When refunds were sought he simply ceased contact."

He also obtained a job with a firm in Aylesbury where he was paid commission to persuade companies to change their telephone supplier. Beckwith was paid on a commission basis and one day produced paperwork indicating he had earned £1,400.

The company paid him, but when they inputted the bank details of the companies he claimed were switching it was discovered that the information was incorrect.

He told the company he must have inputted them incorrectly but when the firms were contacted they said they had not agreed to any change.

Beckwith promised to pay the money back, but when he did not the police were called and he was arrested.

Beckwith pleaded guilty to fraud and asked for 21 offences to be taken into consideration.

The court was told he had been sentenced in March last year for similar offences.

He was also committed for sentence for fraud.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

ADVERTISEMENT

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough & Corby areas and Trevor is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Old Northamptonians help GI Joey

Old Northamptonian's Rugby Club is holding an event to help beat blood disorders and blood cancer by recruiting more people onto the bone marrow register.

Inspired by the plight of one-year-old GI Joey (Joey Ziadi), a Northampton toddler in need of a lifesaving bone marrow transplant, the players are now urging young local people to come down and sign up to help find a match for Joey and others like him.

The event will be held today, Thursday, from 5pm till 9pm at ON's Rugby Club on Billing Road.

David Howland, Director of Rugby at Old Northamptonian's Rugby Club said: "I'm excited to have an opportunity to help sign up local potential life-savers to the Anthony Nolan register. It's amazing to see how all the players and their families have really got behind this appeal for Joey.

"So many of them have said if it was anyone in my family who was looking for a transplant I'd want as many people on the register too, and they've been really surprised by how easy it is to sign up and to donate."

One-year-old Joey from Northampton was diagnosed with an extremely rare blood disorder Diamond Blackfan Anemia (DBA) in February this year.

DBA is so rare that Joey is one of just 125 cases diagnosed in the UK. His condition means that Joey fails to produce red blood cells properly and his best hope of a long term cure is a bone marrow transplant.

Joey's mother, Kaisha said: "He is relying on the generosity of a stranger and are so grateful to the Old Northamptonians for urging more people to sign up."

GOOD CAUSE: All the money raised is going to help disadvantaged young people in Malawi

Student takeover of Papa Cinos a 'big success'

A student takeover of a Northampton restaurant to raise money for disadvantaged youngsters in Malawi has been 'a big success'.

The Northampton College students, who are on a Foundation Studies course, took over Papa Cino's exclusively last Monday night and again this Monday night where they served friends, family and members of the public a delicious two-course menu for just £15.

Over 30 bookings were taken on the first night, and 50 on the second. The 'Papa Juniors' team ran the whole process, from preparing the food to performing front of house duties and everything else that comes with running a professional restaurant.

The amount raised for the Mzipa Liberty Charity, which raises vital funds for disadvantaged teenagers in Malawi, has not yet been announced.

Heartfelt plea for dog's safe return

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A devastated dog owner says she feels as though she has lost a child after thieves stole her Staffordshire Bull Terrier from her back garden.

Emilee Bayles, 21, has this week issued a desperate appeal for the return of her dog, 'Bully', who was stolen from the garden of her house in Gibraltar Court, Barrack Road, earlier this month.

Bully is an 11-month-old sandy-coloured dog, who Emilee has described as 'a beautiful loyal puppy who needs to be back with his family'.

She says that since her dog was stolen, both her and her baby daughter have been left 'completely heartbroken'. She is offering a £100 reward for his return.

Emilee said: "Bully is seen as another child to me. I had a really bad time while I was pregnant with family and my daughter's dad, the only thing I had was my puppy, he was always with me day in and out.

"I know it sounds silly but he even used to sleep at the end of my bed!

"He has really helped me through the hardest and most stressful times in my life.

"I'm completely heartbroken and I can't even look at pictures of him without crying or beating myself up about it all.

"I just want my boy home more than anything."

If you find the dog or know any information which may lead to his whereabouts, please call Emilee on 07460 417069.

Shop is robbed for the third time in eight months

A shop in Daventry has been robbed for the third time since April.

The Cheque Centre in Foundry Walk, was robbed last Monday morning, and a large amount of cash stolen.

The incident happened when a member of staff arrived for work.

As soon as the woman had unlocked the shop door a man pushed an object into her back, told her to go into the shop and demanded she opened the safe.

The staff member was not injured in the incident.

MY DISCOMFORT AT SAINSBURY ADVERT

Caroline Scattergood

Caroline Scattergood is a former Tiller Girl who campaigns for Tibet and works with the Caring Sharing Trust at Cogenhoe

Thank God for the journalist Peter Hitchens comment in the Sunday Mail headed "A sacred moment of history...defiled to sell us chocolate."

I was beginning to think I was alone in my uncomfortable feelings on the Sainsbury's advert, as I saw so many positive responses to it on Facebook.

The scene is portrayed as clean and fresh, when in reality it was blood... dirt..... mud... coldness and fear with a trench population living continuously under fire; men returning again and again after being wounded twice, sometimes three times.

Churchill himself shared the dangers of those courageous men and was bitter at having no hand in the direction of either policy or strategy at that time.

I wonder what he would have felt about the advert - no matter how beautifully made.

It is very important to remember the loss of these brave men and the grief of their mothers and fathers. As Peter Hitchens states "Some things are too solemn to be turned into commercials, even under the cover of Charity."

This is just my heartfelt opinion on behalf of my grandparents who lost their son in the Second World War. I witnessed their grief; it's my truth - it may not be yours but we can all listen to a heart that is crying - even if we can't see the tears.

"Rest in Peace Brave Souls"

British people will do dull jobs for the right wage

Greencore, mass producer of sandwiches, is recruiting 300 staff in Hungary because, they claim, they can't find British workers who want to do this kind of work.

You might ask, how much do they pay? Minimum wage. And there's the problem - no-one wants to do a boring, repetitive job for minimum wage.

But what would Greencore do if bringing in cheap labour from Hungary just wasn't an option? Well, they would have to offer £7 or £8 an hour, maybe more, and then they'd find plenty of British workers willing to do this type of work.

With higher wages, those workers would be better off, they would spend their income back into the local economy, and as a result everyone would be better off. Unlimited immigration of unskilled labour has given us a minimum wage economy, where Chief Executives now earn 175x more than the rest of us, not to mention the strain on housing and public services from the resultant population growth.

Tesco pay £10 an hour for staff to stock shelves on the night-shift and they are not short of staff, which goes to show that British people will do dull jobs - for the right wage. Alas some companies prefer to save money by bringing in cheap labour from poorer countries. We can only thank Greencore for highlighting just how damaging having an open door to the EU really is.

By email, Karim Ayoubi, UKIP candidate in Abington & Phippsville ward

Street pastor: Human excrement on paths is a growing problem

I would like to offer my thoughts on the subject of the letter entitled "More Human excrement on town centre path" in November 6th edition

As a Street Pastor I notice this to be a growing problem. We see human excrement around my home town of Wellingborough, behind churches and in alleyways. No one wants the unpleasant job of cleaning it up but I know people who do! The increasing population, social problems of homelessness, poverty, addictive behaviour, few night shelters and absence of public toilets all have a bearing on the matter. Where are those people supposed to go? If I was forced to sleep out all night I too would have this dilemma!

I really don't know the answer but feel reluctant to pass judgement.

By email, Wendy Steele

We'd like to hear your responses to Karim Ayoubi's letter (British people will do dull jobs for the right wage). Do you agree with him? Give us your reasons for your answers.

Delivering healthcare

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

The University of Northampton has opened the UK's first practical assessment centre for nurses and midwives who completed their training outside of Europe.

The School of Health will be delivering the new Test of Competence on behalf of the Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC) which will ensure the hundreds of nurses and midwives who are internationally educated and wish to practise in the UK are assessed in a robust and objective way, in order to protect the public.

The new assessment process will consist of two parts – a multiple choice computer-based exam and a practical clinical examination to be held at the university.

The system will ensure all people joining the NMC's register are meeting the UK standards.

The centre was opened by Jackie Smith (pictured below right), chief executive and registrar of the NMC, at a ceremony attended by professionals from various healthcare organisations.

How Did You Discover Easy Home Buyers?

"After scouring the internet and newspapers, I found that there are too many scams and unprofessional buy your home for quick cash schemes. I discovered Easy Home Buyers when searching online, and noticed that their turn around was 7 days — which definitely appealed to me since I have spent months being let down."

What Made You Want To Sell Your Home To Easy Home Buyers?

"When I was in the process of putting my home up for sale, I struggled to find any instant buyers; which did cause me problems for me as I had my home on the market for over 7 months. I gave Easy Home Buyers a quick call, and with the help of Joe Booker, I had a quote within half an hour — and I just couldn't refuse after they offered me over 70% of the market value."

Would You Recommend Easy Home Buyers To Anyone?

"Certainly. Without being too cliché; without them I don't know what I would have done."

FEEL GOOD FACTOR

Hints and tips on good exercise and good eating supported by Trilogy Gym

GET INTENSE:

High intensity interval training has grown in popularity over the last few years, hailed as the fitness answer for those that are time poor. So what exactly is it and how can you get started? High intensity interval training (HIIT) describes any workout that alternates between intense bursts of activity and fixed periods of less-intense activity or even complete rest. For example, a good starter workout is running as fast as you can for 1 minute and then walking for 2 minutes. Repeat that 3-minute interval five times for a 15 minute, fat-blasting workout. For those of us that prefer someone to take us through our HIIT training, Northampton Leisure Trust offers a range of HIIT classes across its four Trilogy Leisure Centres in Northampton. The GRIT Series contains three unique exercise programmes lasting 30 minutes each. The programmes are designed for today's need for speed and quick results. Also on offer are INSANITY workouts and lunch-time HIIT 20 sessions. Stella Barker, Health & Fitness Development Officer at Northampton Leisure Trust, said: "People are always on the lookout for exercises that give fast results and the high intensity interval training is big news as it delivers accelerated fat burning benefits. "For GRIT we limit our class sizes to just 14 people to ensure we develop a team training feel to the class and encourage everyone to work hard and support one another." The new Trilogy Health & Fitness class timetable starts on Monday 24 November and can be downloaded from www.trilogygym.co.uk.

I'm weighting for the man

H&P Editor Steve Scoles continues on his quest for fitness and health

I am developing a new respect for weight lifters. I didn't realise how much they choose pain when they are going about their business.

When you are losing weight with fat burning and cardio training there is obviously a bit of pain involved: the burning muscles and lungs that are making it all happen.

But that kind of pain is endured and hopefully overcome. You choose it once and keep going.

Working with weights to build muscle breaks the pain down into neat little hand-held packages.

You can't con yourself about what's ahead.

For the sportsmen driving themselves on it takes a different kind of moral courage.

Every step up in weight is a new start but also a new opportunity to give up.

They literally choose the pain again and again until they fail or quit.

Ok, so my step up in weight was from something in the region of a can of beans to something in the region of a bag of sugar but pain is pain.

Actually there is a lot more technique going on than it looks.

Now I am having a go at it myself, I have discovered that weightlifting takes skill and courage. I didn't say I was any good at it obviously...

Full steam ahead for

BY NICHOLAS BIBER

The University of Northampton's new campus has received a huge cash bonanza to give it the big go-ahead.

Just days after Prime Minister David Cameron praised the town's Enterprise Zone, the Government has agreed to provide almost £300m to fund the new campus.

The Treasury confirmed today that it will guarantee borrowing up to £292m for the University's Waterside Project, which will see it relocate into a brand new purpose-built facility in the town centre.

Building the campus will cost a total of £330m. Up to £232million will be raised through the public bond, £60million from the Public Works Loan Bond (PWL) and the rest will come from the university itself through its cash reserves and sales of its existing campuses.

Construction of the 55-acre site in Nunn Mills Road, which is within the Waterside Enterprise Zone, is due to begin next year.

The university expects it to be ready to open its doors to 14,500 students by autumn

BRIGHT FUTURE: The University of Northampton's new campus, which is expected to open in autumn 2018, has been given a big backing by the UK Government

Michael Ellis, MP for Northampton North, said: "I have been working in support of the university for quite a while, including in private meetings at Government level, to persuade the Government to support the funding of the university in its exciting plans to move site to the Waterside Enterprise Zone."

"I am absolutely delighted at the fantastic news today that the Government is investing even more support into Northampton."

"Our town is a major winner in the ongoing success of this Government's long-term economic plan - which is really bearing fruit.

"I think Northampton has become one of the most favoured towns in the country in terms of Government investment and support and this further good news is really exciting for the regeneration of the town and the icing on the cake for the university."

Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rt Hon. George Osborne MP, said: "I'm really pleased to see that the University of Northampton is proceeding with the Waterside Campus Project with help from the UK

CELEBRATIONS: Amish, Parita and MP Michael Ellis

A first anniversary with a difference

A husband and wife are celebrating their first anniversary – since becoming the new managers of a kitchen retailer in Northampton.

The couple, Amish and Parita Shah, celebrated one year of managing Intoto Kitchens design studio on Saturday.

They marked the day with a party which was attended by the likes of Cllr David Mackintosh and MP Michael Ellis.

Fire drama at St Andrew's hospital

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A bedroom fire at St Andrew's Hospital in Northampton led to a full evacuation at the weekend.

Firefighters were called to the hospital on Billing Road on Saturday evening at 6.47pm to reports of a bedroom fire in one of the wards.

Four fire crews, from The Mounts, Mereway, Moulton and Earls Barton, used two hose reel jets to extinguish the fire and two positive pressure ventilation fans to ventilate.

Although the fire was contained in the bedroom, smoke had spread into the ward and caused smoke damage.

All patients in the ward were evacuated by on-site staff, and no one received any injuries.

Warren Irving, St Andrew's

Chief Operating Officer, said: "There was a fire in a bedroom on one of our wards on Saturday evening and thanks to the swift action and diligence of our staff all patients were evacuated safely and no one was hurt. The fire service were in attendance and the fire was quickly extinguished." An investigation into the fire is underway.

Welcome. . .

What's the first thing you should do when you want to move? Sit down.

It sounds like I'm talking in riddles but it's really very simple. Sit down with your Herald and Post property supplement and see what's out there.

You'll do a lot of research whether you are buying or selling so make sure you start with the newspaper with the biggest circulation in the county. And in these pages you'll find not just an amazing array of expertise in the businesses that advertise here but some of the nicest people you could hope to meet along the way. Why shouldn't they be? A new home is a big dream for some, a smaller dream for others but when the keys are handed over its always a dream come true.

Good luck with your search, you're starting in the right place...

Warm regards,
Alan Doyle

A Christmas Cocktail: Gingerbread and Apple Martini

With the nights drawing in, settling down with a glass of something festive is always comforting. Mulled wine and eggnog are traditional tipples, but this spiced cocktail offers a contemporary alternative. Stoke the fire, pop on a Christmas film, and settle in for the evening.

Method:

1. Edge the rim of a chilled martini glass with agave syrup, then through the biscuit crumbs so that they stick.
2. Pour all other ingredients bar the orange zest into a Boston glass and shake vigorously.
3. Strain the cocktail into a glass, and grate the orange zest on top to serve.

You will need:

55ml Domaine de Canton ginger liqueur
30ml vanilla vodka
70ml apple cider
Few drops of lemon juice
Orange zest
Agave syrup
Digestive biscuit crumbs

Christmas Cornflake Wreaths

Baking is a great way to keep the kids occupied during the school holidays. This festive variation on the classic krispie cake will be sure to get them in the kitchen.

The easy recipe for 14 wreaths makes a fantastic gift idea for the grandparents or a favourite teacher, or just nibbled as a fun teatime treat. Let youngsters take turns to stir the mixture, and then gleefully lick the spoon!

Method:

1. Melt the butter in a large saucepan over a low heat, stirring frequently to ensure it doesn't burn.
2. Once the butter has melted, add the marshmallows and continue to stir until they have melted too. Add the food colouring gradually until the mix reaches the desired shade.
3. Empty the Corn Flakes into a large bowl, and pour over the melted marshmallows. Stir until the cereal is well coated.
4. Lay a sheet of grease proof paper over a baking tray and spoon on golf ball-sized mounds of the mixture. Allow a little space between each heap. Use a finger to hollow out the middle of each to form the ring shape.
5. Decorate with the miniature Smarties, and put in the fridge to set for at least 45 minutes.

You will need:

75g butter
565g miniature marshmallows
1 tsp green food colouring
180g Corn Flakes
Handful of miniature Smarties

Christmas 2014

'Tis the season to be jolly....

Word comes from our North Pole correspondent that Father Christmas will be going walkabout not a million miles from you in the weeks leading up to the Big Day.

He's already been spotted with his elves and reindeer in Frosts Garden Centre, near Bedford, and in a couple of weeks' time, he'll be recounting magical tales of Christmases past in the winter wonderland at Wrest Park, near Silsoe.

You can soak up more of the Christmas atmosphere (maybe a glass of mulled wine?) at Bedford's traditional Christmas Fair, which this year takes place in the town centre between Friday, December 12 and Sunday, December 14. Besides getting the opportunity to pick up some imaginative gifts for friends and family, there'll be street entertainment, traditional fairground rides and, to get you right into the festive spirit, local bands playing Christmas music. Deck the halls....! Christmas is big business in Milton Keynes but the Christmas message of goodwill to all is free for everyone to enjoy. Strolling round the Christmas display in Middleton Hall is always a magical experience. It's open every day now, right through to Christmas Eve.

As the light starts to fade in Wolverton, on Saturday December 6, the town band will be leading the popular Lantern Festival parade through the streets to The Square.

What the Dickens? Is that Mr Pickwick serving customers at that stall? Did Mrs. Micawber just go strolling by? Surely that isn't The Artful Dodger hiding behind that pillar over there? Could be because it's Olney's annual Dickensian Fair.

A colourful assortment of traditional fairground rides, stalls, attractions and street entertainment will once again jostle for business in and around the Market Square on Sunday, December 7.

If you're wondering what all the activity is at The Mall, in Luton, the elves have been preparing the grotto for Father Christmas and, for the first time, a giant interactive snow globe means that you can step into a winter wonderland to have your photo taken with the family.

Santa and his reindeer will be stopping off at Wardown Park to join in some festive activities on November 29, and on December 7 at Stockwood Discovery Centre, the traditional Christmas craft fair and yuletide celebration will include live entertainments, gingerbread decorating, rides in a giant bauble and, if you wrap up warm, the chance to play in the snow – whatever the weather.

Guten Tag and Guten Abend to everyone visiting Northampton between November 20, when the Christmas celebrations kick off, right up until December 21. There's nothing quite as festive as a traditional German Christmas Market; tuck into a tasty wurst, warm yourself up with a glug of gluhwein and pick up some hand-made attractive decorations for the Christmas tree and unusual little stocking fillers.

Beyonce, Jessie J and Take That won't be at the festive lights switch on in Wellingborough on November 29 but their lookey-soundey-likey acts will. As for Santa, you'll have to decide for yourselves if he is the real deal...

There'll certainly be real reindeer and a spectacular firework display and, with the arrival of a giant snow globe, a winter wonderland atmosphere to get you right into the spirit of Christmas.

Walking for Softies in North Devon

Departing on 27 March & 17 July 2015

Once notorious for shipwrecks and smugglers, the north Devon coastline is now a paradise for walkers, characterised by high cliffs and wooded valleys, known locally as combes. We enjoy two full day walks in the company of our professional guides, following country lanes and coastal paths as they bring the landscape to life with their wealth of knowledge. Our first route takes you from Combe Martin on the edge of Exmoor, and along the coast to Ilfracombe, with panoramic views across the Bristol Channel. Our second route starts at Woolacombe Bay and takes you to the prominent Bull Point Lighthouse, before picking up a section of the Tarka Trail – a picturesque region made famous by Henry Williamson's poetic novel. With three nights' half board accommodation and a visit to one of the oldest towns in Britain, this is a great way to enjoy a relaxing break that's good for you!

Prices Includes:

- Private coach travel from your local area

SUNDAY

The men in green, black and gold travel to Allianz Park to face the Saracens in an Aviva Premiership clash. Kick off at 1pm.

Lee Mack at the Derngate

The show started with a knock knock joke... and ended with a Q&A session. But don't be fooled, it is Lee Mack delivering the comedy that time forgot. It's a short set - the show lasts under 80 minutes, but oh boy does he cram a lot in it. If you've seen him on the TV show Not Going Out, you'll know Lee for his gag-heavy tomfoolery, marked by meticulous professionalism with scarcely a wasted word of what Mack thinks and feels.

What you see in that show is exactly what we got on Tuesday night at Royal & Derngate. Mack, playing the familiar role of beleaguered husband and father (albeit with a roving eye), delivered his well-rehearsed material on the ridiculousness of star signs, joyless holidays and family life. One juvenile but irresistible running gag finds him trying to seduce a woman in the front row with... magic. It's typical Lee, but that's just how we like it.

Skoda's new Fabia might not be the cheapest supermini on the market, but the 90PS model in particular offers strong value. It's hard to argue with 83mpg fuel economy, especially when they drive so well, offer so much practicality and cling on to their value. Yes, the Skoda Fabia is a very sensible car and, to the casual observer, it might be construed as a bit of a boring choice. It's safe and steady, it gets great fuel economy and it's reliable. Spend any time in one, however, and you'll realise that the talents of the Volkswagen Group have been put to very good use. It actually drives a lot better than many of its so-called sporting rivals. There's a consistency to its control weights and a refinement to its suspension that feels reassuringly expensive. This is an easy car to recommend to people who know nothing about cars and to those who know a lot.

CRICKET: Northants have announced that captain Alex Wakely has signed an extension to his contract for the 2015/2016 season.

Wakely, the skipper for the club in all forms of the game, missed the entirety of last season after suffering an Achilles injury during pre-season.

He said: "I am very happy to be extending my contract with Northants."

"I really like this club and have been here all my career, so I am Northants Cricket through and through. Personally, it's a fresh start for me and a second chance really, after coming back from injury."

RUGBY UNION: World Cup winner Jason Leonard will officially switch on Wellingborough RFC's new floodlights tomorrow.

England's most capped international will be at the club's Cut Throat Lane HQ before they take on Market Harborough in Midlands Two East South. The Aviva Premiership Trophy and Amlin Challenge Cup won by Saints will be on display as well.

BOXING: Far Cotton super heavyweight Sebastian Brown was denied the chance to defend his Southern Area belt on Friday when his opponent pulled out with a virus.

Meanwhile, there was a controversial split decision defeat for the club's Ben Fail.

TRAMPOLINING: Andrew Stamp put in a pair of superb performances to secure silver and bronze medals at the World Age Group Championships in Florida last weekend.

The 13-year-old Northants Trampoline Gymnastics Academy youngster showed his class when he claimed bronze in the 13-14 boys individual competition, going one better than his fourth place last year. And he followed that up with second place in the synchronised event alongside Great Britain team-mate Corey Walkes.

GOLF: Wellingborough Golf Club's Ellie Darnell has won a competition for promising youngsters, arranged by the Northamptonshire County Golf Partnership, for a second time.

After qualifying through a season-long Order of Merit, Ellie won the Grand Final held at Northants County Golf Club. The boys' champion was Tom Forster, of Oundle GC.

ATHLETICS: RUGBY & Northampton Athletic Club picked up a second successive victory in the West Midlands Young Athletes Cross Country League, and are top by 508 points.

Hartley is given backing after Springboks yellow

SAINTS

BY DAN PALMER
sport@snmedia.co.uk

Andy Farrell insists he would have no qualms in calling on Dylan Hartley for England's remaining autumn internationals at Twickenham despite his sin-binning against South Africa.

After finding themselves 20-6 behind to the Springboks shortly after half-time at Rugby HQ, Hartley and England rallied to trail by just five points at 25-20 after an hour.

It was then that Hartley was shown a yellow card by referee Steve Walsh after a lengthy review for what the officials adjudged to be a stamp on South African No.8 Duane Vermeulen.

And while Hartley's absence did little to affect the final result – both side's scoring penalties during the ten-minute spell as England lost 31-28 – it did once again raise the question of the Northampton hooker's temperament with the World Cup now less than a year away.

However, England coach Farrell believes that Hartley – who was sent off for Saints during the 2013 Premiership final which saw him banned for the Lions tour to Australia – should not be castigated and is instead keen to focus on missed opportunities on the whole ahead of this weekend's Samoa Test.

"It's a tricky one isn't it?" he said. "It's an old-fashioned hack. I didn't think it was severe at all."

"They were debating it very carefully because they didn't think it was so severe themselves, and it's just that fine line.

"It comes down to the interpretation of the referees. It just went along with the game, really, as the game was going.

"We'd got ourselves back into the game very well but when we had our purple patches, and were rolling forwards really well, we compounded it with a penalty that stalled our momentum or dropped ball to another penalty that stopped our momentum, and allowed South Africa to get back in the game.

"And that type of loss of continuity just mars our game slightly, because there's a hell of a lot of good stuff there, we created chances, probably more chances than South Africa, and I suppose that's the frustrating thing."

And writing in his column in The Sun, 28-year-old Hartley was keen to distance himself from any malice in the incident.

He said: "I swear there was no malice in what I did. I'm furious at myself. I hope people won't blame me for another narrow defeat.

"Treading on him was probably a daft thing to do. But it happens plenty of times in club games and even in internationals – and it does go unpunished."

Saints return to Premiership action on Sunday away at Saracens in a repeat of last season's final but go into the contest on the back of their first home defeat of the season – a 24-18 defeat to Exeter Chiefs which followed a sluggish first half that saw the Devon club head to the interval 21-6 up.

"From kick-off we conceded a really sloppy try, didn't take the restart, got driven over from the maul, halfway through gave away an interception try," said director of rugby Jim Mallinder, whose side still top the league. "But it wasn't just the start; it was the whole first half."

"We talked about their line speed during the week and we struggled with that. Just before half-time, they scored from a five-metre scrum and suddenly you go in three tries down and you've got an uphill battle."

"They came with a simple game plan and that was to kick the ball away and then take their opportunities and they did it very, very successfully."

"I know the crowd were getting frustrated but there's not a lot of options when they've got a good line and it is tricky out there."

"You can't play too much with a wet ball. Some of our kicking wasn't brilliant, but we tried to play the game in their half and we came back well."

We are not on a good run but we are not getting smashed – Wilder

BY DAN PALMER
sport@snmedia.co.uk

Northampton Town boss Chris Wilder admitted he was outfoxed by counterpart Keith Hill after Rochdale completed a late comeback to knock the Cobblers out of the FA Cup at Spotland.

The visitors led Tuesday's first round replay through Ivan Toney's early header and held their advantage for the best part of 80 minutes until on-loan Barnsley youngster Reuben Noble-Lazarus levelled with five minutes remaining.

With the tie seemingly destined for extra time, centre-back Oliver Lancashire dived to head beyond Town keeper Jordan Archer in the fourth minute of added-on time.

And although Wilder insisted the result against higher level League One opposition was cruel on his players, he also acknowledged that a shrewd tactical change from Hill was responsible for the hosts' fightback.

The Cobblers have now lost seven out of their last nine games in all competitions as an alarming slump of form before Christmas continues.

"The game is being a bit harsh to us at the moment in terms of results," said Wilder.

"We always knew they would pass it but we were a touch disappointed not to be further ahead in the first 20 or 25 minutes.

REPLAY DRAMA:

"To be fair to them, they move the ball around pretty quickly and two late goals sealed the tie.

"They put on Calvin Andrew and went direct, changed their game plan, and all credit to Keith because that is the way to manage."

Northampton were ahead inside five minutes as Toney headed home Darren Carter's sublime free-kick before Emile Sinclair and Marc Richards spurned two good chances for the visitors.

Dale redoubled their efforts after the break and the pressure finally told when Noble-Lazarus struck a high shot past Archer after miscuing his first attempt before Lancashire's injury-time winner, but Wilder is remaining upbeat.

"We're not on a good run but we're not getting smashed three or four and our keeper isn't making save after save," he added.

"We were more than a match for a really good League One side and we could quite easily have won but football is a harsh game."

The game brought back bad memories of last season's League Two trip to Rochdale, who were promoted come the end of the campaign, which saw the Cobblers lose 3-2 after another pair of late goals at the death.

There was a further blow for Town when midfielder Ryan Cresswell was taken off injured, joining Oxford United loanee Tom Newey on the sidelines at a time when the club's injury crisis appeared to be easing.

Left back Newey rolled his ankle and suffered ligament damage in Friday's 2-1 League Two defeat at Cambridge United and could be out for up to six weeks.

"He tried to carry on but unfortunately he couldn't and he had to come off," said Wilder, whose side are now 17th in the table. "It's another blow for us because Tom has been excellent and he's been that footballer for us that we've talked about.

"He's here until the start of January and it's just unfortunate that he will miss the next few games because he's come here to play.

"Injuries have hampered us all the way through this season and they continue to do so but when someone rolls their ankle in a game there is nothing really you can do about that.

"Lawson D'Ath could be back towards the end of the week and if not then definitely for the Southend game. Evan Horwood and Lewis Hornby are back in light training but they are still a few weeks away from being considered."

Meanwhile, Cobblers midfielder John-Joe O'Toole is a reported target for League Two rivals Southend United after Wilder revealed that his summer signing from Bristol Rovers had disappointed and was potentially available for loan.

United boss Phil Brown, who has tried to sign O'Toole in the past, told the Southend Echo: "I'm still disappointed not to have already brought John-Joe in and I would certainly be interested in bringing him in because he's a goalscorer and we don't have an abundance of them in our squad."

"When I tried to sign him the first time he went to Bristol Rovers and they got relegated while in the summer he chose to go to Northampton. "He finds himself in the wrong half of the table with them as well and it hasn't gone too well for him there."

Cobblers are taught a lesson in the university city

COBBLERS

BY TOM REED
sport@snmedia.co.uk

Tom Reed reflects on Northampton Town's 2-1 League Two defeat to Cambridge United on Friday night.

Cobblers were schooled in match management in the university city, going down 2-1 after taking the lead against Cambridge United. Ivan Toney's goal under Friday night lights proved academic as Chris Wilder's side slipped to their sixth defeat in eight matches.

The stage was set for a local clash between two sides joined by their dislike of Peterborough United with mist rolling over the Abbey Stadium and a thousand Northampton travelling fans gathered.

Yet the Cobblers again failed to turn punchy play and goalmouth threat into any sort of points tally with Richard Money's U's claiming the spoils. Those that braved the A14 rush hour arrived to see a bold Cobblers 4-4-2 formation with Toney and Marc Richards in attack.

Chris Wilder's starting eleven was further bolstered by the return of chalk-on-his boots right-winger Chris Hackett.

In goal, Jordan Archer proved a surprise Cobblers addition while his opposite number Chris Dunn played 98 times for the Sixfields club. Adam Cunningham, recalled from loan at Bristol Rovers, was the main change from a U's side that had emerged victorious against Fleetwood in the FA Cup.

Yet it was Richards, recovered from a torn hamstring, who had the game's first chance – sending a header wide of Dunn's post.

Meanwhile, tall forward Cunningham aimed to soften up the Northampton rearguard with the rapid Kwasi Appiah ready to surge into space.

Indeed, the Cobblers' defence looked vulnerable to pace all evening with an alarming number of penalty-box dribbles and crosses going unchallenged. On 15 minutes Cunningham found space for a free header which was saved by Spurs loanee stopper Archer.

Not that Northampton were short of speed with Hackett and Kaid Mohamed providing a pincer threat in attack. Mohamed was guilty of spurning two good chances with a turn and shot sliced over and then a well-hit volley drawing a smart save from Dunn.

Cobblers fans entertained themselves with an epic chanted rendition of the trumpet intro from Johnny Cash's "Ring of Fire" while Lee Collins got their side out of jail with a 25th minute block on Appiah.

Northampton were always going to be a different proposition attacking their own fans post-break and so it proved when Toney opened the scoring five minutes after the restart.

SCHOOLED: The Cobblers can't stop Adam Cunningham equalising
Picture: Richard Patterson

Hackett specialises in "stood up" crosses and his right-wing ball to Toney saw the 18 year-old place a firm header past Dunn.

However, Toney had barely finished his knee slide in front of the delirious shoe army before the home side had restored parity. Cunningham's identikit header from a Liam Hughes corner lived up to every cliché about a side being most vulnerable after scoring.

That said Northampton's record at the Abbey is good and with an authentic derby atmosphere crackling to rude songs from both ends about Posh's Barry Fry, Cobblers came back at Cambridge. Toney's free header miss against Rochdale had meant a Tuesday FA Cup replay and a Richards nod over from a perfect 57th minute Gregor Robertson cross was likewise costly.

Left back Robertson then launched an audacious dipping volley that Dunn saved from nestling into the top right-hand corner of his net.

Cobblers fans stood perplexed as Dunn would more likely have dropped the ball in his goal during his spell at Sixfields yet their mood turned uglier moments later as Cambridge snatched the winner.

Appiah had threatened to haunt Cobblers and did so on 79 minutes, racing into their box before flipping to Ryan Bird to slot home.

That wasn't to be it though as Cobblers went gung-ho with a last-gasp ball falling to Ben Tozer on the Cambridge goal line. Two-feet Tozer however contrived to send the ball three feet over the bar, steam rising from the defeated Cobblers players and the ears of their disconsolate fans.

Northampton's record before their stadium redevelopment stalled was played 14, won seven, drawn three, lost four and after reads played nine, won one, drawn one, lost seven.

You don't have to be a Cambridge code-breaker of the calibre of Alan Turing to suggest a connection.

A harsh game

• Cobblers boss Chris Wilder bemoans club's luck after two late goals send Northampton crashing out of FA Cup

Chris Wilder described football as a 'harsh game' after watching his Cobblers side exit the FA Cup thanks to two last gasp goals at Rochdale.

Northampton led the first round replay at Spotland for the vast majority of the contest thanks to Ivan Toney's early goal but the League One outfit hit back at the death to send Town tumbling out.

Reuben Noble-Lazarus struck for Dale on 85 minutes and Oliver Lancashire then registered nearly four minutes into stoppage time to ensure the Cobblers' journey home was an unhappy one.

It was a bitter pill to swallow for Town fans who have become used to misery in recent weeks – with the latest reverse meaning they have now lost seven of the last nine matches in all competitions.

"The game is being a bit harsh to us at the moment in terms of results," said Wilder.
